3. Mr. Walsh said that the biggest hit around town these days is an old stereopticon with which [REDACTED] and others have been demonstrating the value of stereo photography. The demonstration has been given to both the President and Vice-President.

25X1

4. Mr. Petrasek is completing a study on the question of classifying the "fact of" overhead photography and will be forwarding his findings to the Director shortly.

5. Mr. Walsh met and had lunch with the Federal Design Panel which visited Headquarters to examine the format of the various Agency publications. The Panel was ecstatic about our cartographic work and had nice things to say about the Daily, but was negative about everything else. The group advocated greater standardization and recommended more centralized production.
